AROUND the TOWNSHIP

With April comes the start of the baseball season the nation over. Washington Township bids fair to share in the pastime of horsehide smacking willow with the Newark Merchants having already launched their season and efforts underway to revive the Niles town team.

Healthy, wholesome sport of this kind has never been known to hurt anyone and the township teams are worthy of the support of the home populace.

Persons with the yen for "fooling" should get it out of their systems today, for this is April First.

Present outlook speaks for more serious business ahead, but it is well enough to let levity reign for a day.

Neon signs pointing the way into Niles from both the north and south from Highway No. 101 soon will be a reality. The Chamber of Commerce has a definite project in this direction and it is only a matter of bringing about joint action with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, originators of the improvement, before the signs may actually be installed.

None too soon, as warm, sunny days will mean thousands of tourists. Niles is estimated to have more than $100,000 in new business.

Health Hygiene Knowledge Need, Speaker States

CENTERVILLE—Discussion of dental hygiene for children marked last week's meeting of the Welfare Club at the home of Mrs. Frank T. Dusterberry. Dr. Thomas Cook of Centerville was the speaker.

Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth reported that the membership of 30 was now complete and that names of prospective members would be put on a waiting list.

Mrs. A. A. Hatch reported on clothing distributed during the past month. Mrs. W. L. McWhirter gave a report of the Coordinating Council at the high school.

The club voted to meet at 1:30 o'clock instead of at 2, and to have refreshments at the beginning of the meeting. Those who are late will be fined a dime.

Dr. Cook stressed the need for a knowledge of health hygiene, child psychology and diet for proper promotion of dental hygiene. He spoke of health systems in vogue in Russia, England and Scandinavia. He said that the social health care in Russia was the best that the world has known.

There is no need to treat isolated cases of any disease, he said. Group education is necessary. In California there are already 25 health set-ups, not only for indigents but for all classes of people. Any health program must be tentative as the idea is new to this country and no standard has been established or no pattern chosen to guide new groups. Education through the schools and parents' organizations is the best method, he said.

CHAMBER SELECTS Type Of Signs At Highway Entrance NILES—That two neon highway signs can be placed at the entrances to Niles at a total cost of $355.18 was the report made by Jack Vioux at the luncheon meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Belvoir Monday. The chamber voted to adopt this type of sign and the committee headed by Dr. T. C. Wilson was instructed to contact the Junior Chamber of Commerce to ask reconsideration of their decision to place vapor lights at the entrances.

The signs proposed by Vioux would be five feet, six inches long with 12-inch letters in blue on an arrow outlined in green. They would be singed-faced and would be mounted on steel poles. Double-faced signs would cost approximately $45 more.

Upon motion of George Bonde, the secretary was instructed to contact Supervisor George Hellwig and ask for improvements on the county road at the north entrance to Niles.

F. V. Jones stated that the membership committee had signed up 45 members and were practically sure of five others. C. W. Kraft stated that several local business men would join if the chamber voted to install electric entrance signs on the highway.

Kraft reported that the Community Industrial Night dinner to be held in celebration of the opening of a new steel plant in Niles would be held the latter part of April or the first of May. All civic organizations are to be asked to participate and a program will be planned.

The sum of $5 was voted for maintenance of District Council No. 3. Captain T. A. Oakes reported on efforts to get the War Department to remove the ban on anchoring in Suisun Bay and the San Joaquin river for fishing. Model Miss

With a deft brush, Jessie Chin of the N. Y. A. adds a bit of color to this model of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay.

Midget Battleships Made For Miniatures of '39 Fair

SAN FRANCISCO.—Bay bridges in toothpick proportions, inch-long battleships with tiny broom-straws for guns and a model of the 1939 World's Fair, 4 by 6 inches, complete in every detail.

Such are the intricacies in the construction of 200 relief miniatures of the San Francisco Bay Area that will be used to spread the fame of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

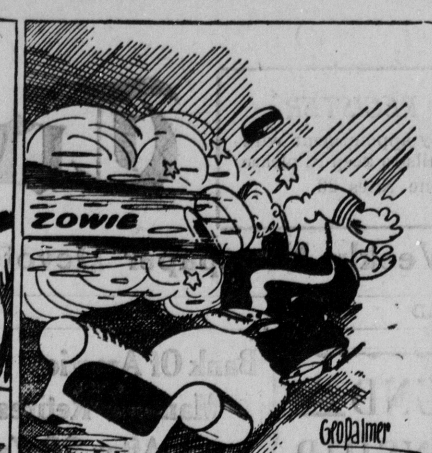

The detail work is being carried out in the basement of the Exposition Building here by 12 girls of the National Youth Administration, under direction of E. A. Owens, who designed the model.

Main object in showing so much of the Bay Area is to emphasize the setting of Treasure Island in the middle of the harbor, surrounded by the Bay cities and the two great bridges.

Tiny battlewagons are shown entering the Golden Gate and others are anchored in Man-o-War Row; Lilliputian ferry boats shuffle between Bay points; minikin merchant steamers are seen being warped into berth, and sailing craft no larger than a fingernail lean to in imaginative breezes.

When completed, the models will be shipped throughout the country as part of a $3,000,000 drive by the Exposition, the eleven Western states and railroad, bus and air lines to bring more tourists West in 1939 than ever before.

PERENNIAL PEDDLER

Poppies aren't all that Spring brings to California. Spring also produces increasing numbers of that hardy perennial—the door-to-door peddler.

His well-flexed thumb will soon be punching the city's doorbells, and his trigger-action foot will be swiftly planted against the door-jamb as he prepares to display his assortment of gadgetry, nostrums and combination bottle-washer and curling-iron specialty for $1.79.

According to government reports, where the transient solicitor nuisance is not stopped there is approximately $11 per capita taken yearly by this front porch selling. Multiply that by the city's population, and you have the astonishingly high sum which flows into peddlers' pockets.

Like the glib side-show Barker, these itinerant sellers play upon human credulity which frequently seems all too willing to believe the peddler's suitcase contains better bargains than can be obtained in the local stores. A few decades ago, the wandering hawk's grab-bag may have contained items not obtainable at the town's general store. But this is 1938! The specialized stocks offered today by the local managers of the retail network stores, are rich in variety, fair in price, never lacking in bargains. And it is these enterprises whose payrolls, rent, taxes, operating expenses, and all other payments, contribute to the well-being of the community, to the building and upkeep of our schools and roads, and shoulder a large part of increasing relief costs.

Remember these things next time that hardy perennial, the transient peddler, tries to take root on your front porch!

SEE CALIFORNIA!

Tourist agencies and travel bureaus have just discovered an interesting fact—Americans are staying home this year! After an early season of peak activity, steamship bookings have dropped far below normal in the past few months. With bombs bursting and governments growing groggy, Mr. and Mrs. America seem to have decided to see America first—in safety!

That's an idea. Now that the Nazi bear is showing his teeth in a warlike growl, how about a safer look at California's friendly bears in Yosemite National Park? With the traditional gayety of Vienna's Ringstrasse buried beneath the gloom of black swastikas, perhaps this is the year to sample the gayety of Los Angeles' Wilshire, or San Francisco's Nob Hill.

With military boots and war-packs the latest things for European wear, let's strap on our hiking shoes and strike out into California's wonderlands—the cool, forest aisles of the Redwood groves, the mountain trails of the San Jacintos, the rugged timberlands of the high Sierra.

Let's see—we'll trade the questionings of a border patrol for the quiet of our own campfire, the flash of air-raid search-lights for the gleam of a mountain trout stream, the perils of a land ready to burst into flame for the peace of a land far from the alarms of war.

And we'll be investing good American dollars in progress and prosperity at home.

IRVINGTON—The marriage of Miss Mildred Elvira Durham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Judge Haley Durham of Irvington and Mr. Kenneth Lyman Foster, formerly of Michigan, now of Centerville, took place on Saturday afternoon Mar. 26, at four o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Osgood avenue. Attendants were Mrs. Howard Overacker and Miss Frances Anderson for the bride and Mr. Howard Overacker as best man.

Rev. Brown, minister of the Irvington Community Church, performed the ceremony which took place before the fire place in the living room to which the bride was escorted by her father.

lege. Foster whose college training was received in Michigan, is connected with the Chemical Factory in Newark. They have taken an apartment in Centerville.

School Enrollment

Boosted Hundred

By Harvest Hands

WARM SPRINGS—Approximately 100 children of transient pea pickers in the Warm Springs district enrolled in the local grammar school yesterday for a course of instruction to last from six to eight weeks. This annual increase in enrollment is coincident with the opening of the first peapickers' camp in Washington Township on the Curtner ranch.

The regular classes at the school meet from 9 to 1:30 o'clock with no recess periods, the transient enrollment attending from 1:30 to 4 o'clock. Clarisse Benoit of San Jose has been engaged as an extra teacher for the next two months.

Most of the new enrollment attend classes in the first four grades, the nomadic life of the children who follow the crops regarding them in their advancement. Approximately 200 are expected to be enrolled before the season is over.

The pea crop is said to be very poor due to excessive rains. The first peas are already being picked although the wage has not yet been decided.

Six camps have been established in the township—two on the Curtner ranch, two at the I. D. E. S. Home, one on the Vargas ranch and one on Christian Lane near Irvington. Picking will probably reach its peak about Easter.
